EXERTIONAL HEAT STROKE

KNOW THE SIGNS.

1. Rectal temp above 105°F post-collapse.
2. Plus confusion, irritability, or altered consciousness.
3. Collapse is not required to suspect it.
4. When in doubt — cool.

Every minute above critical temperature does damage.

For education and preparedness only. Not a substitute for professional medical advice. In an emergency, call 911.